

MISSION

Weinberg/Newton Gallery is a non-commercial gallery with a mission to collaborate with nonprofit organizations and artists to educate and engage the public on social justice issues. Through artwork and programming, the gallery provides a vital space for open discourse on critical contemporary issues facing our communities. Connecting artists with social justice organizations, we work to drive change and cultivate a culture of consciousness.

WE OFFER FREE EXHIBITION TOURS + WORKSHOPS

At Weinberg/Newton Gallery we believe that art is a powerful force for social change. We offer FREE interactive, inquiry-based tours and hands on art making experiences designed to compliment the current exhibition on view. We strive to create a safe, inclusive environment for students to bring their own knowledge, experiences and ideas to explore art and social justice issues while learning from each other. We aim to show students how art is relevant to their own lives, encourage them to think critically and creatively about art, and inspire them to become agents of social change. We welcome students and educators from all skill levels and disciplines to join us in pursuing these goals.

CURRENT EXHIBITION

Return to the Everywhere in collaboration with WBEZ Chicago, Chicago's NPR station
On view January 24 through April 4, 2020

Return to the Everywhere looks to various modes of communication, storytelling, and listening in an attempt to grasp the implications of this so-called post-truth era in which we now find ourselves. Both of the moment and half-forgotten impressions of such notions as fact vs fiction, objectivity, bias, and belief ricochet off each other as this collection of works creates space to consider the implications of truth's tenuity for interpersonal connection at large.
